

Craft Wild Animal Puppets

Wild beast puppets are especially fun to create after reading a great book about animals.

What You Need:

Brown paper lunch bag

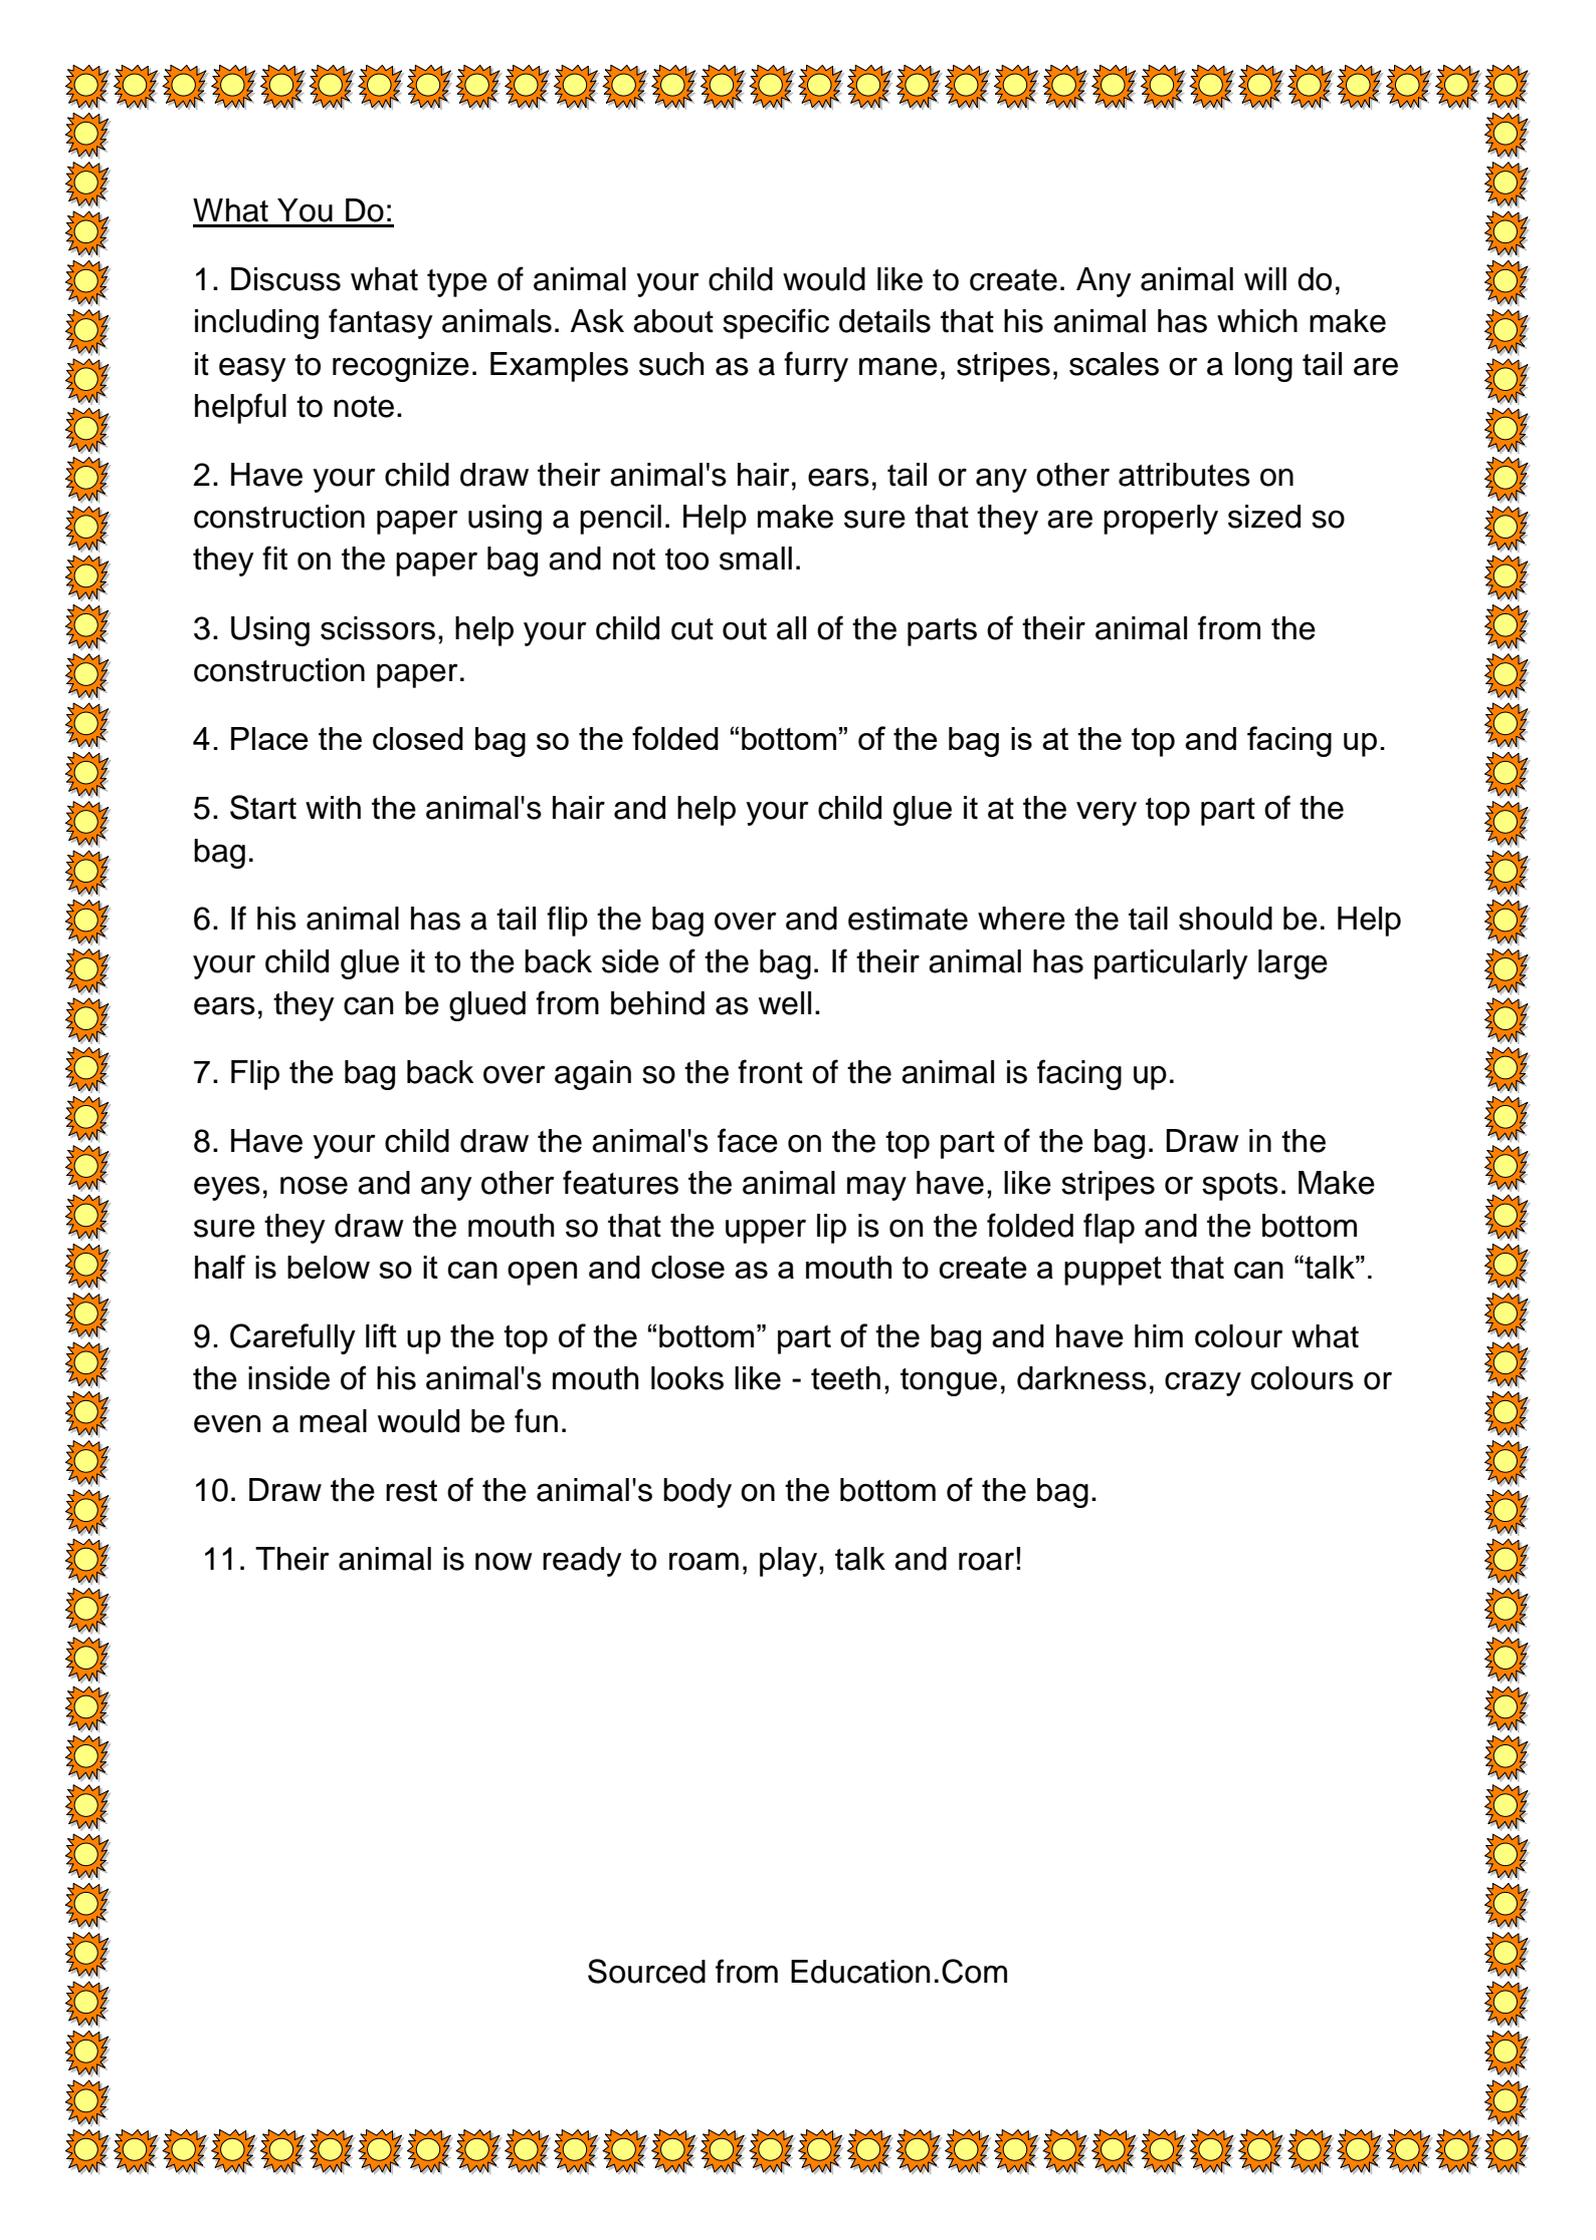

Construction paper

Crayons or markers

Scissors

Pencil

Glue stick

A decorative border of small, stylized suns with yellow centers and orange rays, arranged in a continuous line around the perimeter of the page.

What You Do:

1. Discuss what type of animal your child would like to create. Any animal will do, including fantasy animals. Ask about specific details that his animal has which make it easy to recognize. Examples such as a furry mane, stripes, scales or a long tail are helpful to note.
2. Have your child draw their animal's hair, ears, tail or any other attributes on construction paper using a pencil. Help make sure that they are properly sized so they fit on the paper bag and not too small.
3. Using scissors, help your child cut out all of the parts of their animal from the construction paper.
4. Place the closed bag so the folded "bottom" of the bag is at the top and facing up.
5. Start with the animal's hair and help your child glue it at the very top part of the bag.
6. If his animal has a tail flip the bag over and estimate where the tail should be. Help your child glue it to the back side of the bag. If their animal has particularly large ears, they can be glued from behind as well.
7. Flip the bag back over again so the front of the animal is facing up.
8. Have your child draw the animal's face on the top part of the bag. Draw in the eyes, nose and any other features the animal may have, like stripes or spots. Make sure they draw the mouth so that the upper lip is on the folded flap and the bottom half is below so it can open and close as a mouth to create a puppet that can "talk".
9. Carefully lift up the top of the "bottom" part of the bag and have him colour what the inside of his animal's mouth looks like - teeth, tongue, darkness, crazy colours or even a meal would be fun.
10. Draw the rest of the animal's body on the bottom of the bag.
11. Their animal is now ready to roam, play, talk and roar!
